Responsible Clean Energy and Innovation Transitions and Resourceful Networks in Africa

- This focuses on the neglected majority of 70-90% African Economies which make the economies of Africa tick and will propel rapid implementation of AfCFTA and for transformation of the continent if its clean energy transition is handled this time to benefit the majority sector and its majority peoples.
- This is the energy needs and Innovations for the 'informal sector' of Africa, that are invisible but we have identified and work with as a Resourceful Network of Knowledge, Capacity, Expert, Business, CSO and Beneficiary partners in countries and around the continent.
- A link with any of the members of our Network gives you entry into all the resourceful network.

Resourceful Network Organisations working for invisible economy and invisible peoples

- Coalition of Farmers Ghana (COFAG) www.coalitionoffarmersghana.net cooperatives and rural communities get business development from business incubating organisations and consulting entities for running farming as productive, profitable and professional business
- They get clean energy supplies from clean cooking suppliers in the network. This is going further to solar big time, including increasing supplies, integrating installation training and marketing in cooperation with Solar businesses.
- A further step is wider circular economy and future green jobs
- Bottom-up Regenerative Agriculture Training for climate benefit to food, people and planet smallholder, women and young farmers
- Water harvesting and management practices

Expanding such Resourceful Network for benefit of the Poor

- We are expanding the scope of Network participants by inviting partners globally:
- Use of Technology, digitalisation and Innovation, AI, IoT, Block Chain
- Engineering Innovations and Applications
- Taking Inventions to commercialization, market and scale
- Climate Resilience and sequestration, Restoration of Lands, Soils and Forest
- Climate Finance models beneficial to invisible economies and peoples
- Other new ideas for addressing the special needs of the invisible sectors and peoples are welcome
